Coast Hotels Surprises Guests with Valentine's Day Gifts

This Valentine's Day Coast Hotels surprised its guests with romantic giveaways. Roses and chocolates were given to everyone, and a few lucky travelers received Whistler lift tickets, complimentary upgrades to romantic suites and much more.

Vancouver, B.C. – Coast Hotels played Cupid this Valentine's Day, delighting guests at its signature Coast Coal Harbour Hotel in Vancouver, BC with some unexpected but welcome surprises.

Coast Hotels' ambassadors started bright and early on Valentine's Day randomly bestowing gifts on unsuspecting hotel guests. From gourmet breakfast in bed to handing out locally made (Daniel Le Chocolat Belge) chocolates, the hotel's gifts made all recipients smile. Front desk staff handed out bouquets of roses upon checkout, and valet staff even got in on the act leaving surprises such as lift tickets for Whistler Blackcomb for lucky travelers to find as they drove away.

Two lucky couples received complimentary upgrades to specially designed romance suites that included rose petals, champagne, chocolates and incredible weekend getaways to the Coast Victoria Harbourside Hotel & Marina or the Coast Sundance Lodge at the alpine Sun Peaks Resort.

"We work hard to delight our guests every day and love showing them how much we appreciate them" said Sarah Kirby Yung, Executive Director Marketing & Communications. "When you stay with Coast Hotels it's like having a friend in every city, and our Valentine's Day Surprise is a fun opportunity to show our friends a little love. You never know what Coast's Valentine's Surprise will be next year," Kirby Yung added.
